THE BBC'S HOME SERVICE

Welcome to the ever-growing World of BBC VIDEO. This catalogue contains a host of new categories and titles for the whole family and carries on the reputation for quality and variety of which we are justly proud.

From classic movies to the specially compiled sports programmes, every BBC Videobook is unique and can be watched time and time again – which is why more people choose to buy BBC Videobooks than any other brand.

The quality of our special Videobook packaging also reflects the care which we devote to every title in this catalogue.

BBC Video programmes are only sold in the unique packaging pictured here. Each cassette should bear this label with the BBC logo upon it. If you are offered a video cassette that doesn't look like this then it may well be a counterfeit of poor quality and you should refuse to accept it.

Your local Trading Standards Officer would also like to know if you are offered a counterfeit; you will find his number in the telephone book. To protect your interests BBC Video also uses the unique 3M Confirm security labelling system.
